

Aalto University

Creative Commons Permission Form

The Aalto University Language Centre is currently creating online learning materials for writing courses at Aalto. For this purpose, we need student texts as examples, for analysis, and use in our future course materials for master’s thesis writers. Therefore, would it be possible to receive your permission to use the text of your master’s thesis in our online and classroom learning materials as well as to adapt the contents if needed?

Excerpts from your thesis would be distributed in our materials under the Creative Commons BY-NC-SA licence, which would allow the Aalto University Language Centre to adapt (remix, transform, and build upon) and share your master’s thesis (copy and redistribute parts of your thesis in any medium or format), but prevents anyone from using your thesis for commercial purposes.

If you wish to grant the Aalto University Language Centre permission to use your text for research and teaching purposes, please select one of the options (A-C) listed below and return it immediately; otherwise, you will be subjected to repeated email reminders.
