

III Analysing Media Coverage: the Case of School Shootings -workshop

Friday parallel sessions II 12.15 -13.30 (Nov. 6th 2009)

Description

This workshop examines the role of journalism and news reporting in shaping violence as a cultural and social phenomenon. A special focus is given to the journalistic, historical and visual approaches when studying the media coverage of violent events. The case studies of China, Finland, Germany and USA are also used in order to open up interesting comparative perspectives on the subject.
