

Workshop 'Small-scale multilingualism, language change, typology, and beyond'

University of Helsinki

Venue: Metsätalo, room 9

November 3, 2023

10.00-10.40 Jeff Good (University at Buffalo), Space as a variable rather than a backdrop: Three studies of how spatial factors relate to individual-level multilingualism in a small-scale society

10.40-11.20 Matti Miestamo (UH), Current work on the typology of negation

11.20-12.00 Olesya Khanina (UH), Language change under intermittent contact: an Arctic perspective

Lunch break

13.30-14.10 Masha Khachaturyan (UH), Multilingual experience shapes production and comprehension patterns: a case study of reflexivity in Mano and Kpelle (Guinea)

14.10-14.50 Masha Konoshenko & Masha Khachaturyan (UH), Acquisition of tonal systems in contact: The view from Mano and Kpelle (Guinea)

Coffee break

15.30-16.10 Thera Crane (UH), Investigating multilingual perception and production in South African Bantu varieties

16.10-16.50 Friederike Lüpke (UH), A situationally based model of language and languaging, replacing language and contact