

University of Helsinki
Helsinki University Library

Infrastructures and networking for Open Science

Finnish OpenAIRE2020 workshop
30.8.2016

Infrastructures and networking for Open Science

Twitter: @openaire_eu, #openaire16fi

10:00	Opening words	Sami Niinimäki, Ministry of Education and Culture
10:15	OpenAIRE2020 as a European infrastructure supporting Open Science	Tony Ross-Hellauer, OpenAIRE 2020 / University of Göttingen
11:00	University-based Open Access publishing in Sweden and Kriterium collaboration	Beate Eellend, National Library of Sweden
11:40	Networking lunch with theme discussions
12:40	Open Science Researcher to Researcher: Open Knowledge Finland and Finnish Committee for Research Data	Heidi Laine, Open Knowledge Finland
13:00	HELDIG – Helsinki Centre for Digital Humanities as a platform for open science & DARIAH collaboration in Finland	Eero Hyvönen and Mikko Tolonen, University of Helsinki
13:20	MILDRED – Developing Research Data Infrastructure at the University of Helsinki	Ville Tenhunen, University of Helsinki
13:40	Coffee & Theme discussions
14:20	ATTX – National platform for Linked Data on Research	Joonas Kesäniemi, University of Helsinki
14:40	TAJUA project – models for supporting open scholarly publishing	Esa-Pekka Keskitalo, National Library of Finland
15:00	EUDAT service and experiences from the Aalto Data Repository Pilot	Keijo Heljanko, Aalto University
15:20	Closing session and networking

Infrastructures and networking for Open Science

Discussion themes

Theme	Sign text	Moderators
OpenAIRE services for funders, research organisations and project coordinators	OpenAIRE services	Tony Ross-Hellauer
Research data services like DMPtuuli for data management plans, EUDAT services and Linked Open Data	Research Data services	Kimmo Koskinen Joonas Kesäniemi
Open scholarly communication, new models and possible future scenarios	Open Scholarly Communication	Beate Eellend
Networking and exchange of ideas. Benchmarking of experiences in building networks and partnerships. Ideas for new initiatives.	Networking	Heidi Laine

Science. Set Free.

Thank you!
pauli.assinen@helsinki.fi