

Call for Papers

Symposium: Student Agency and Learning

May 14-15, 2013

Taipei

The National Academy for Educational Research (NAER) of Taiwan announces its Second Symposium on Agency and Learning, as part of a cooperative project between the NAER, the University of Helsinki, and the Hong Kong Institute of Education. The symposium will be held on the Taipei campus of the NAER. The dates of the Symposium are May 14-15, 2013. Interested individuals are invited to submit proposals in the form of an abstract in English (300 words) or Chinese (500 characters) in any of the following categories. :

- Theory and research in children's agency and learning
- Teaching and developmental tasks to support children's agency and learning
- Learning environments that support children's agentic perception and learning

Abstracts should be submitted electronically and are due March 20, 2013.

Acceptances will be notified April 5, 2013. Full papers in APA format are due April 25, 2013. Submissions should be sent to:

Rosalind J. Wu

Center for Research in Curriculum and Teaching

National Academy for Educational Research

rozwu@mail.naer.edu.tw

The Taipei campus of the NAER is located in the academic hub of Taipei, close to the National Taiwan University, the National Taiwan Normal University, the National Taipei University of Education, and the Taipei City University of Education.

Registration for the conference is free, but space is limited, so early registration is necessary. Participants are responsible for accommodations and meals. Tea and snacks will be provided.