

33/47-symposium

The University of Helsinki, Faculty of Behavioral sciences arranged 9th Dec 2013 a symposium to celebrate and pay attention to the international aspects of research in education and psychology. According the cross-analysis of the recent international university rankings, the Department of Teacher Education of University of Helsinki is place as n:o 33 in the world and third in the non-English language institutes.

The playful (bingo! Beer 33!!) happening was combining deep-analysis into cheerful activities among them more than 140 persons had the opportunity to get information via PATHWAY-leaflets (<http://www.pathway-project.eu/>) which were delivered for teacher education professionals, researchers, teacher students and science learning experts. The dissemination and the further sustainability of the PATHWAY results were linked also to the national activities of the Ministry of Education <http://tiedekasvatus.wordpress.com/brief-in-english/> and other EU-level activities like Open Discovery Space (<http://www.opendiscoveryspace.eu/>) and INSPIRE (<http://blogs.helsinki.fi/tiedekeskuspedagogiikka/tutkimushankkeet/inspire>)
